

PICTURE COVERS – REAL CAVES

NEW GUINEA

Unidentified Cave

PC-RE47 United Kingdom 2003

CD: CAVES OF THUNDER

Perf: Rob Gould, etc. (Film Music)

Prod. Co: Rob Gould Music

Label: Rob Gould RGMCD 2

Notes: Given that this multimedia (6-projector) slide show is about the caves and people of Irian Jaya in New Guinea presumably all the photos on the covers and in the liner notes were taken by Gavin Newman in New Guinea. The back cover has a backlit shot of a caver standing in a wet passage leaning against the glistening wall with his right arm. His headlamp is lit and shining towards the camera. This photo was also used on the back page of the liner notes.

Another cave interior shot (on pages 2 and 3 of the liner notes) shows a caver sitting by a rimstone pool with his light shining at his waist. Flowstone covers the opposite slope.

A third cave photo (on page 5) is a dramatic shot of a backlit caver doing a Tyrolean traverse over cave rapids.

For further information on the cave-inspired music by Rob Gould on this album see under Film Music – Documentary. This slide show should not be confused with the 1993 French documentary film, “In the Heart of Irian Jaya – Caves of Thunder,” directed and filmed by Bruno Cusa.
