

PICTURE COVERS – REAL CAVES

HUNGARY

---

Aggteleki-karszt barlangjai

Aggtelek

PC-RE-HU1 Hungary 2000

CD: A FÉNY HÚRJAI

Perf: Szirmai Rousseau Dezső (Contemporary Art)

Label: ANP-01

Notes: The title of this CD translates as “Strings of Light.”

The cover photo show of nice formation room probably in one of the caves within the Aggtelek Karst country, but it is not known which cave. Several drapery stalactites hang on the right. A few small stalagmites are in the muddy water of a rimstone dam and one large stalagmite (?) is in the foreground on the left.

The back cover of the CD has a very nice robust stalagmite with secondary calcite deposition, which is shown cut out against a red background with a sun-like disc shining. It is not known where this cave formation is located.

The CD itself has the logo of the Aggteleki Nemzeti Park showing the cave dwelling salamander (Salamandra salamandra).

Pál-völgyi-barlang

Budapest

PC-RE-HU2 Hungary 1970

LP & CD: KONCERT A MARSON

Perf: Hungária (Rock)

1. LP: Qualiton LPX 17408 (mono)

2. Reissue on CD: Hungaroton-Gong
HCD 17408 (1995)

Photos: Zaránd Gyula

Notes: On the front cover the five members of this Hungarian rock group are shown together on a stair landing in this famous show cave located in a residential district of Budapest on the right bank of the Danube.

The back cover has the five musicians playing their instruments (with their amps & speakers) in the room called "Märchenland" (Tündérország = Fairyland). Some grungy stalagmites are in the middle foreground of this small room
